TOUCHING TRIBUTE TO MAUD ROLLINS BY CIRCUS FRIENDS

Kansas City Man Arrested for Embezzlement by Los Angeles Officers Went West this Morning.

GODDESS OF CHANCE CAUSED HIS DOWNFALL

Specific Charge Against Man is that He Took $200 Diamond Ring from Gaming Companion

Embezzlement of a diamond ring valued at $200 is the specific charge made by the Los Angeles police against J. J. Lipschitz, the young man who was arrested here Wednesday, while traveling with his wife and one-year-old baby to Kansas City on a Santa Fe train. The police here arrested Lipschitz, a telegram from Sheriff Hammel of Los Angeles that arrived only a few minutes before the train.

Details of the case were disclosed to the police today by Louis A. Duni, a detective in the office of the district attorney of Los Angeles county, who came here to get the prisoner. According to Duni, on the day Lipschitz left Los Angeles for Kansas City he offered to buy a diamond ring of William Appel, one of his Los Angeles acquaintances. He is alleged to have told Appel that he wanted to step across the street to a jewelry store and have the ring appraised. Appel agreed to that proceeding, and Lipschitz left with the ring. After waiting vainly for Lipschitz's return, Appel made inquiries and learned that Lipschitz had started east. The complaint to the police followed.

Lipschitz admitted this morning to Chief of Police McMillin and a Herald reporter that he took the ring as alleged, but insisted that Appel owed him more than the ring was worth. He said Appel borrowed $150 of him and he saw no way of getting any part of it back except through the ring, which, he said, wasn't worth more than $120.

He told the chief that he had lost $12,000 during his six months' stay in Los Angeles, most of which he said he had gambled away in card games with Appel.

"I am going to cut gambling out after this," he said. "I've been a fool like a lot of other young fellows with money but I am going back to get my head and I am going back to fight this case. I won't let them job me."

"My father, who is in business in St. Louis, will help me in this case. We'll get the best lawyer available, and I don't expect to have any particular trouble in straightening out this case."

"After I finish with it I am going back to Kansas City with my wife and start a new life. No more gambling for me. I've had my lesson. It's been expensive, but I guess it will be worth the money if it keeps me clear of gamblers and sharpers hereafter."

Four gold watches, a twenty-dollar gold chain, a gold bracelet and two gold rings found on the prisoner when he was arrested, turned out to be his property, as he claimed at the time. A diamond stickpin found on him is claimed by Appel, as well as the diamond ring, but the charge against Lipschitz makes no mention of it.

Detective Duni started with his prisoner for Los Angeles on the westbound train leaving here at 11:50. With them went Mrs. Lipschitz and her baby. The wife's eyes were heavy and tearstained. Lipschitz was compelled to pay for her ticket back to Los Angeles. Duni said the Los Angeles authorities were not officially interested in the wife, and he had no power to purchase transportation for her.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO REGULATE THE COTTON GAMBLING

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] Washington, March 27.—The senate today passed without division a compromise bill to regulate trading in cotton futures.

The bill was composed of portions of measures introduced by Senators Smith of Georgia and Randall of Louisiana.

It would prohibit sending through the mails or by telegraph information furthering the making or enforcement of contracts which don't specify that delivery is to be made on a basic grade with the option of delivering other governmental grades, the difference between which would be fixed by actual trading in spot cotton and not arbitrarily as an exchange now.

The bill includes a feature by Senator Smith of Georgia to legalize pooling of cotton to put up the price.

Wagon Load of Flowers Carried to Santa Barbara Cemetery by Sells-Floto Official and Performers.

FUND RAISED TODAY FOR FINE MONUMENT

Famous Equestrienne who Died Last Year in Vaughn, New Mexico Honored by Former Associates.

Before a grave in Santa Barbara cemetery yesterday knelt a horse, beneath the mound over which his head was bent as his mistress, Maude Rollins, knelt for a brief space the horse knelt on bended forelegs, then, with a quick sigh, backed a few feet and stood with bowed head.

So Maude Rollins, equestrienne, and the horse she rode in the circus met again.

Last September Maude Rollins died in Vaughn, N. M., and her body was brought here for burial. A year ago she was a rider in the circus, one of the most popular performers, with her associates, as well as with the public.

When the Sells-Floto-Buffalo Bill circus company came to town this week they learned for the first time that Maude Rollins' grave was here. Some of them had not even known that she was dead. Johnny Baker, chief of Buffalo Bill's cowboys, didn't, and he was the man who taught Maude Rollins to ride.

As soon as they learned that the equestrienne's grave was in Santa Barbara the circus folk made up a purse. A wagonload of flowers was purchased, and yesterday a company of circus performers with officials of the Sells-Floto organization made a pilgrimage of sorrow to the grave.

And with them went Omar, the calico horse that Maude Rollins rode in her act with the Sells-Floto circus two years ago.

Behind the flower wagon walked Omar with empty saddle, his head bowed. The circus folk made up a purse. A wagonload of flowers was purchased, and yesterday a company of circus performers with officials of the Sells-Floto organization made a pilgrimage of sorrow to the grave.

At the cemetery all the wagonload of flowers was strewn upon Maude Rollins' grave and the bare, sombre mound flung into life and glory. With bowed heads the men stood beside the grave, and the women with tear-filled eyes and the men with lumps in their throats. For Maude Rollins had been one of those called well-beloved.

Today the circus company contributed to another fund. With it will be erected a monument at Maude Rollins' grave bearing this inscription:

Maude Rollins Died Sept. 8, 1913 In loving remembrance Sells-Floto Shows Company March 28, 1914

The party that visited the cemetery yesterday included the most prominent officials and performers of the circus. Fred B. Hutchinson, manager of the shows, was among those who paid tribute to the equestrienne's memory.

Use Cottolene on the testimony of the past

The first pure food display of Cottolene which attracted more than National attention was at the World's Fair, in Chicago in 1893.

That meant that Cottolene had then been known well enough and long enough to have its place in the homes of America.

Since then it is fair to say that Cottolene has revolutionized and bettered cooking in hundreds of thousands of homes.

Cottolene

is imitated—of course—but is unequalled. Any woman who knows it and uses it will tell you that it more than takes the place of butter or lard for shortening and frying.

Remember that you use one-third less Cottolene than you do of butter or lard.

PLENTY OF FRIENDS FOR LITTLE MISS PIERCE

Dr. C. E. Luksus of Children's Home Society Promptly Takes Charge of Child with Probate Court Authority.

WILL HAVE GOOD HOME IF FATHER DOESN'T RETURN

Friends are rising on every hand for little Violet Mabel Pierce, the ten-year-old girl whose father, William Pierce, disappeared Monday night, leaving her in a West Silver avenue boarding house. Almost as soon as the Evening Herald with the story of the father's disappearance and the little girl's plight appeared yesterday, inquiries began to come to Chief of Police McMillin, who had announced that he wanted to find a home for the child. Judge John Burton Burg of the probate court was among the first to make inquiries into other cases, and soon after Dr. C. E. Luksus, superintendent of the Children's Home society, called on the chief. Before that the Y. W. C. A. had arranged to shelter the child until some other home might be found for her.

Chief McMillin surrendered official charge of the little girl to the probate court, and Judge Burg placed her under the charge of Dr. Luksus. Whether her father returns or not—and as told yesterday, several of those who knew him fear that he went away to end his life—the little girl will be cared for.

No trace of the father has been found. After he missed the child good-bye Monday night and left his boarding house, he vanished as completely as if the earth swallowed him. There are those who think that, in a way, the earth did swallow him. They fear he is at the bottom of an irrigation ditch.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. It is not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle. "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all druggists.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old Time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and sulphur for restoring faded, grey hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But breaking at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

He urged special vigilance over the negro, and asked the authorities to resist possible habeas corpus proceedings pending the arrival of a Texas deputy with extradition papers. Watson is accused of stealing cows in Polk county, Texas.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once—No More Falling Hair.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have thick, heavy healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scour robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fatten, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, straggly, or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

FRENCH'S CAPTURE IS END OF A LONG CHASE

Alleged Forger Caught in California has been Sought by Sheriff's Office for Nearly a Year.

Word was received by Undersheriff Dick Lewis yesterday afternoon of the capture in La Jolla, Cal., a town not far from San Diego, of George K. French, who is under indictment here on a charge of forgery.

The arrest of French followed a chase of almost a year. The sheriff's office started on the trail of the man last summer, and kept on the case until it was able, through a long-distance tip, to effect the capture of French in La Jolla.

French was indicted by the grand jury at the September, 1913, term of court. He waived extradition yesterday, and last night Deputy Sheriff A. C. Burless left for La Jolla to bring him here.
